

NING PO COLLEGE
40th Annual Speech Day, 13 January 2012 (Friday)
Annual Report (2010/11)

Introduction

Ning Po College is in its 40th year of operation. The School continues to function smoothly under the direction of the School Management Committee. All programmes planned for the year 2010-11 have been carried out to the satisfaction of the School Management Committee, teachers and parents.

The success of an organization depends very much on its tradition and culture. It is our strong traditional belief in bringing up children with high standards of discipline and care. With the concerted efforts of our staff and the good communication between the School and parents, the School has successfully built up a high reputation. Ning Po College has become one of the most popular secondary schools in Kwun Tong. Last year, more than 240 application forms were received to compete for the Secondary One discretionary places.

The School has strived for all-round education. Having a well-defined mission, our School has established a harmonious working relationship and a good team spirit. Our curriculum places equal emphasis on the five Chinese virtues, namely, morals, intelligence, physical development, sociability and aesthetics, and helps develop students' potential to the fullest. Activities are arranged within the School to promote the students' sense of belonging to the School and to upgrade their moral values and physique. Students are also encouraged to participate in activities outside of the School in order to obtain other learning experience.

In the years to come, by the continual provision of a high-quality education and a caring, dynamic and stimulating school life, we aim to have our graduates entering the University and study in the faculty of their choice, thus, enabling them to better equip themselves and make contribution to the prosperity of the society.

Effectiveness Enhancement of Learning and Teaching

To enhance continuous and effective learning and teaching, teachers are advised to have their own plan of professional development. As the New Secondary School (NSS) curriculum was implemented in September 2009, teachers were encouraged to attend relevant seminars and workshops to get themselves acquainted with the new syllabus and assessment methods. Teacher development activities including school visits, sharing sessions, collaborative lesson planning, lesson observations and staff development days were held throughout the year. Teachers were encouraged to open their classes for visitors as well as parents of our students for observation. All these led to improvements in teaching methodology, resulting in greater effectiveness of students' learning.

Assessment for learning was much emphasized this year, especially in face of the full implementation of the New Senior Secondary Curriculum. Continuous assessment was employed in all subjects to monitor the formative development of students. Teachers were well aware of the importance of formative assessment and put assessment for learning in the classroom setting to closely monitor students' learning progress. Follow up measures were taken up by individual subject panels to see into real implementation of these assessment strategies in lessons and assignments. Based on the strengths of our students, we always sharpened our focus on enhancing the effectiveness of teaching and learning by arousing students' learning motivation. In view of this, students were provided with interactive and constructive learning experiences, and the lively classroom atmosphere helped engage students in active participation in the lessons, and they were much more ready and willing to contribute in learning in classroom.

This year 63 Secondary Seven students sat for the Advanced Level Examination. The overall passing percentage was 87.3%. 79.4% of them continued their studies in local tertiary education institutions. The passing percentage of Secondary Seven students in most subjects was higher than the local passing rate of Hong Kong schools.

Careers Talks and Visits

The Department of Careers helped junior form students make suitable choices of subjects in New Senior Secondary Curriculum. It provided students with useful information about the JUPAS. Various careers talks and visits had been organized throughout the year to achieve the aims of assisting students to explore their further education and careers planning in respect of their personal development, values, interest and aptitude. Alumni are invited to share with fellow schoolmates their experience in academic studies as well as career development.

Orientation for New Students

New students, together with their parents, actively participated in a one-week Induction Programme in mid-August to familiarize them with the School.

Within the Induction Week, 16 of our alumni and 6 Secondary 7 students, with the assistance of 40 trained Secondary 2 - 4 'Big Brothers and Big Sisters', played the role of mentors. They conducted the whole series of class-based activities, with much emphasis being put on team-building and discipline-training. A Closing Ceremony was held on the last day of the Induction Week. All the parents of Secondary 1 students were invited to attend the ceremony. They enjoyed their wards' performance on the stage. Many of the S.1 students were awarded for their outstanding performance throughout the week. The S7 students, alumni and the 'Big Brothers and Big Sisters' were highly praised for their leadership and their effort and dedication to the Induction Week. According to the participants' and the parents' feedback, the programme was a great success, with an overall attendance of over 95%.

The Induction Week provided a valuable opportunity for students to get to know their classmates before they began their new school life in this caring School. It also helped them develop team spirit and a sense of belonging to their classes and School at an initial stage of secondary education.

In the first term of the school year, 'Big Brothers and Big Sisters' continued to play the role of mentors and helped their Secondary 1 kids adapt to the school life in Ning Po College.

Home-School Cooperation

The School has committed itself to promoting home-school cooperation. It is believed that a harmonious relationship between parents and teachers greatly helps to create a better environment to nurture students' lifelong learning.

In the previous school year, the Principal and teachers made good use of frequent occasions to communicate with as many parents as possible.

In order to further build up mutual trust between home and the School, parents were invited to visit and attend classes with their wards and teachers as the School opened its campus.

Through their personal in-class observation and participation, parents could understand and experience more about the daily life of their wards. All of them gave very positive response towards such invitation and highly appreciated the efforts of our teachers who have kept enhancing the interaction and quality of students' learning.

Moreover, three meetings between parents and teachers were held in the previous school year as they served as an important channel to facilitate better communication between School and home.

The first meeting in October was mainly for the parents of Secondary 1 and 2 pupils. Parents of other forms who would also like to meet their wards' teachers were also welcome. Through mutual communication and collaboration, students' problems, if any, could be identified at an early stage.

The second meeting was held in January for all parents of the School. Students' performance was revealed thoroughly and constructively with individual parents. Health assessment services were also arranged for parents that day.

The third meeting was held in May for the parents of Secondary 1 – 6 (except those of S5). Parents met the class-teachers and the Uniform Test reports of S1 – S4 were distributed. Parental involvement was encouraged to better prepare their wards for the final examination.

Ning Po College Parent-Teacher Association

Ning Po College Parent-Teacher Association was established in 2004. It upholds a close liaison between school and home as well as friendly relations between parents and teachers.

To make a difference in our society, the association took part in various charity initiatives. These included participating in the Knotting Hearts Action and flag selling activity. Also, parents, teachers and students all spent a meaningful day by joining the School's Christmas Funfair.

In addition, many parents also devoted their time to volunteering various events inside and outside the School. Their volunteer efforts have demonstrated a good example to their wards and increased their sense of belonging to the School.

A healthy and harmonious family relationship is a very cornerstone of our society. With an aim to foster a closer communication between parents and students of our School, the association organized a series of parenting workshops in 2011. Parents acquired different skills to better build up relationship with their wards. It also invited different parties to run interest courses for parents, like dancing course and handicraft workshop. All the activities were well-received by the parents as they gained much from these talks and courses.

Ning Po College Alumni Association

Since 2006, Ning Po College Alumni Association has been very active in helping the School in different ways. The support not only takes the form of monetary offerings to students with financial difficulties, but also in the form of hands-on contributions.

Aiming to maintain close connections between the School and the graduates, the alumni association continued to organize various types of activities for its members like annual spring dinner, barbecue and alumni Challenge Day Camp.

With a strong sense of belonging to the School, the association has also given staunch support to different School functions and activities, like Christmas Charity Funfair, Speech Day and Form One Induction Programme as well as several working experience sharing and career planning talks for senior form students.

This year, to celebrate the school 40th anniversary, the alumni association offered their time and effort to prepare the 40th anniversary mural painting as well as the singing performance in the 40th anniversary celebration ceremony, which were highly appreciated and rekindled the kindred spirit among the alumni.

Extra-curricular Activities

Providing students with a balanced and whole-person development to meet the learning goals of the New Senior Secondary (NSS) curriculum has been the mission of the School.

Our students are encouraged to gain 'Other Learning Experiences (OLE)', one of the key features of the NSS. Through a diverse range of extra-curricular exposures in sports, arts, moral and civic education and social services organized in our School, students can build up their positive attitudes and team spirits and learn to commit to our society.

It is worth noting that 'Student Learning Profile' (SLP) is an important record of what students achieve and participate during the Senior Secondary years. Therefore, the School has made an effort to help our students build up their personal profiles. With the individual portfolios systematically and properly compiled, students' pictures in terms of their whole person development can thus be fully reflected.

In the previous school year, hundreds of inter-school, inter-house or inter-class competitions and activities together with various other competitions were held with the collaboration of 4 houses and 31 clubs and groups.

The highlights of these extra-curricular activities included two cross-border exchange tours in mainland. Students visited Tengxian (藤縣) and Sichuan (四川) in 2010 and 2011 respectively. They gained valuable life and cultural experience through joining a range of school visits and charity projects in China.

In December 2010, the Christmas Funfair organized by the Department of Extra-Curricular Activities raised fund satisfactorily for the underprivileged students and peasants in China. It served to help students experience the joy of giving and sharing and care for the needy.

Implementation of Life-wide Learning

To help enrich our English learning environment, English teachers interacted with students both in and outside of the classrooms. Our dedicated and dynamic teaching team provided numerous chances for students to interact with one another in English.

Throughout the academic year, various festivals have helped students to polish their English. They were easily immersed into the festivity, and relevant classroom activities were conducted to help students extend their learning. School functions like Halloween Party (October), Valentine's Activity Day (February) as well as Easter Day Camp (April) were the highlights of the English Department and the English Club. All of them were well-received and proved to be effective tools to foster students' interest in English and boost their confidence in using English.

To maximize students' exposure to authentic use of English and to broaden their horizon, students were encouraged to participate in a variety of English activities and public contests. They gained some invaluable English learning experience when they paid a visit to International Christian School for an international cultural exchange day.

During the year, our students also achieved outstanding results in an array of diversified competitions. For example, two students were awarded the first prize and second prize in the 16th Asian Games Writing Competition organized by Sports Federation & Olympic Committee of Hong Kong, China. In the 62nd Hong Kong Schools Speech Festival (English), we had three championships, two first runners-up, seven second runners-up, one merit in choral speaking, 82 certificates of merit and 40 certificates of proficiency. All these have undoubtedly created a sense of achievement among our students and boost their interest in learning English.

Last but not least, around 100 students from junior forms joined our ELIC English Summer Immersion Camp. In the English Camp, students were introduced to an enriched English immersion environment. The Camp enabled them to extend their English learning experience beyond the classroom. Daily contact with tutors, either during lessons or in out-of-school activities like visits to Space Museum, History Museum and Science Museum, were refreshing and stimulating. All the participants were motivated to speak English in authentic situations during the summer holiday.

English Enhancement Scheme

English Enhancement Scheme has been implemented for four years. Students have been given a wider exposure to different aspects of the language.

With the funding available, the school and teachers have been enabled to play a more proactive role in launching different initiatives. Apart from implementing language arts in the formal curriculum, debating has been incorporated into our existing extra-curricular activities systematically to further enhance students' critical thinking. An English Debating Team was set up and they participated in various debate tournaments, both within our school and inter-school ones, each of which, according to the students, has greatly broadened their horizons as they got the chance to meet students from different types of schools, international schools, schools serving ethnic minority etc.

An English Forum has served as a platform for students to extend their academic discussion outside class, which, in turn, further enhanced their self-learning habits.

In view of the Fine-tuning Policy of Medium of Instruction (MOI), students can probably be given more opportunities to use English for learning, not only in language subjects but also other content subjects. A proposal on a series of strategies was devised and submitted to the Education Bureau for the application for the Refined English Enhancement Scheme, hoping to equip students better for the Refined MOI Policy in the future. We were granted an additional amount of $800,000 to help refine our curriculum development.

We believe such financial support will continue to provide us with abundant favorable resources for optimizing our students' learning outcomes and effectiveness.
